The resolution said in part: "Law and order has broken down; murder and arson and shooting have rampant during the past year; citizens were intimidated to keep them from exercising their constitutional rights; law enforcement officers had participated in outrageous conduct; that the State of Mississippi had condoned outrageous conduct by others and on the part of the executive and judicial officers of the state."

The fraternity asked that the President establish those Civil and Criminal guarantees that will insure the honest form of Government in Mississippi and that the

The Commission will hear testimony concerning details of voting rights to the State's Negro citizens and discrimination in the administration of justice.

In accordance with the statute governing the Commission's hearings, the hearing in Jackson will begin with an executive session during which persons who may be defamed, degraded or intimidated by testimony to be presented at the public session will have an opportunity to be heard.

The public session of the hearing, which will follow the executive session, is expected to begin February 16, 1965.

FIELD REFORM
In 1963 and 1964 the Commission staff conducted field investigations in Mississippi. The 1961 Commission Report brought to the attention of the President and the Congress serious questions concerning the civil rights status of Mississippi's Negro citizens.

A hearing scheduled in Mississippi in 1965 was postponed at the request of the U. S. Attorney General. In 1963 the Commission, in a special report, found that there had been "open and flagrant violation of constitutional rights in Mississippi."

Since that time the Commission has conducted further field investigations and has continued to receive reports of voting denial, and of various and unredressed instances of violence, especially a "mississippi."

More recently, some indication of progress, particularly in the area of law enforcement, have come to the attention of the Commission.

SHIRT TRIALS

Urban League Head Hails Procedure

The Federal Housing Administration's adoption of new operating procedures as an encouragement to neighborhood citizens, interested in sale or rental properties in the area was hailed this week by William E. Doubt, executive director of the local Urban League.

Under the new FHA regulations, adopted after successful five pilot areas across the Nation, all local housing offices have been directed to compile and make available to the public upon request, the FHA Subdivision Reports, Multi-Family Commitments and Home Mortgage Commitments for Proposed Construction.

An interested individual may write the local FHA office and have the list of proposed properties, covered by Executive Order 11063, sent to his home. Executive Order 11063, promulgated by the late President Kennedy in 1962, prohibits discriminatory practices in Federally financed housing.

teens nd tweens

By NITA

Holla again! Implications for the New Year are still popping from last week, but so many things have happened since then that our attention is turned to current happenings and we think first of the passing of the year, of our friends and the people who, one of our favorite readers, one can feel as helpless as those of death and whether to live or die, we are at a loss of words as these things happen. So, to the New Year family we extend our deepest sympathy.

Aside from the sadness, we go to other things and I think of how I wanted to accompany my Mom and Dad to Jeff City last Monday to see how a governor is inaugurated, but I had to remain behind at school place.

FINAL EXAMS

... are coming up. To all you teens 'nd tweens: it's too late to start studying now; you've done that already. So, the best thing we can do is to review and not try to cram. There are many pointers on taking final exams positively, but since you probably know most of them, I only wish for all of us good luck. Luck, as you know, is what happens when preparation meets opportunity. Hope you're well prepared for your finals and will come thru with flying colors! ... Next week we shall return to the implications for us teens during this new year; in the meantime, let's go to sports happenings. This

Dr. W. C. Banton Named to Post

Dr. J. Earl Smith, St. Louis Health Commissioner, has announced the appointment of Dr. William C. Banton II as Tuberculosis Controller. This position has been vacant since August, 1964. Dr. Banton has been an employee assigned to various Divisions of Health programs, but primarily in the Health Center, since '48, except for 2 years' military service in the Air Force during the Korean war (11-22, 1950 to 8-20, 1952). Dr. Banton holds the rank of Lt. Colonel in the Air Force Reserve at present.

Dr. Banton is a graduate of Howard University, College of Medicine. He served his internship at Homer C. Phillips Hospital and subsequently was a Resident Physician at Koch Hospital. He is a fellow of the American College of Chest Physicians, the American Public Health Association and the American Thoracic Society. He is on the faculty of the School of Medicine, St. Louis Univ. He is a member of the St. Louis City Medical Society and the American Medical Association.

In his new position, Dr. Banton will have the administrative responsibility of integrating all phases of a total community-wide tuberculosis control program, according to Dr. Smith.

Salaries Needed

The recommended salaries, the budget committee said, are necessary to enable the St. Louis schools to attract and retain able teachers in competition with St. Louis County school systems. The proposed salaries would put St. Louis at about average for school systems in the nation's 14 largest cities.

The increases would cost $2,100,000 in 1964-65 and $4,500,000 in 1965-66, the budget committee reported. "Just what impact they will have on the property tax rate depends on the other items in the budget and on the extent to which the State of Missouri increases its support of local systems," the committee said.

"The budget committee feels, however, that the community must be asked to provide whatever tax increases are required to support the recommended salaries. Unless these adjustments are made, the schools will suffer to the detriment not only of the children but of the property owner as well," the committee report said.

The St. Louis schools employ 349 classroom teachers and 960 nonclassroom teachers, principals and other instructional administrators.

Job Panel To District Pleas To U. S. Chair

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity is delegating to the Chairman of the U. S. Civil Service Commission authority to administer certain aspects of the processing of discharges from Federal employment. It was announced this week.

The delegation of authority was announced by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Committee Vice Chairman and Robert Taylor, Jr., Associate Counsel to the President and Committee Executive Vice Chairman.

Under the new system, the Research and Planning Committee of Grace Presbyterian Church of St. Louis, Mrs. Mabrey is the former Barbara Jean Johnson of St. Louis. The Mabreys and their two children reside at 3413a Bell avenue, St. Louis. The children are: Vicki Lynn, 8, and Harold Lesley, 2.

President's Committee does not relinquish authority over complaints against federal agencies. The change in procedure will, however, expedite the handling of investigation and processing of complaints.

These functions will continue to be conducted in accordance with the rules and regulations as provided in Executive Order 10293, which established the PCSEO and outlined its responsibility for eliminating discrimination in federal employment and in employment by federal contractors.

Final action on complainant appeals from agency decisions on their complaints will continue to be taken by the Executive Vice Chairman, who retains all other authority given him by Executive Order 10293.

The Commission's assistance in processing complaints will enable the relatively small committee staff to give increased emphasis to the affirmative phase of the non-discrimination program in federal employment.

This involves consultation with the departments and agencies of the executive branch to consider and recommend additional steps that should be taken to realize more fully the national policy of maximum manpower utilization. This program has gone forward even as complaints have been processed. By the end of December, the staff had conducted reviews of their operations with departments and agencies employing 9-10ths of all federal employees, according to Mr. Taylor.

Made In Mississippi List Now Distributed

NEW YORK—A list of over 80 products "Made in Mississippi" was mailed to the 1,800 units of the NAACP, Wednesday, Dec. 23, by Executive Director Roy Wilkins.

In a memorandum accompanying the list, Mr. Wilkins cited as the authority for the move a resolution adopted at the NAACP's 26th annual convention in Washington, D. C., last June, calling upon the members and friends of the Association to exercise their rights of free choice in regard to products originating in Mississippi.

"The Convention Resolution," said Mr. Wilkins, "calls for a genuine, concerted stop-inquiry branch to see that the economic protest against Mississippi is widespread and effective."

The NAACP director pointed out that the task of doing the research necessary to identify Mississippi products was complicated by the fact that in many cases items manufactured in Mississippi by plants of national companies do not carry any distinguishing labels.

Also, he said, sometimes a part is made in Mississippi, to be assembled elsewhere with other parts and sold with no indication where the different parts were made.

Nevertheless, Mr. Wilkins admonished NAACP members to spread the facts included on the list throughout their community and to encourage consumers to inquire about the point of origin of products which might be in Mississippi. The NAACP leader said the knowledge that people are concerned about this will have an effect on distributors and retailers. Mr. Wilkins suggested that the NAACP units enlist the cooperation of other organizations and churches to distribute copies of the list.

Sullivan

Sullivan bill, as first introduced in 1961, provided Congress with the approach it should take months later in drastically reforming the clearance procedure on law enforcement and ex-convicts drugs following the thalidomide tragedy which came to light in 1962.

Broadly revised and updated, the bill as reintroduced continues to call for such "unfettered business" goals of the 1961 and 1963 versions of the bill as:

Pre-testing for safety of cosmetics before they can be marketed; proof of effectiveness as well as safety of new therapeutic devices before commercial distribution; tighter factory inspection of food, drug and cosmetic manufacturing; and creation of new legal machinery to combat deceptive packaging and labeling of such products, an all-out Federal attack on the vast illicit trade in sleeping pills, "pep" pills and other widely bootlegged, highly dangerous "psychoactive" drugs, and restrictions on "kitchen" remedies and "worthless" ingredients in special dietary foods.

The bill contains new provisions banning interstate commerce in "candy" aspirin, reportedly the leading substance involved in the accidental poisoning of children under 5, and it establishes for foods, drugs and cosmetics the same requirements as to cautionary labeling, including instructions for first-aid when necessary, as are required for the Hazardous products Labeling Act. Mrs. Sullivan's bill has always included a requirement for the disclosure of cosmetic ingredients, the protection of allergic of allergic users.

Johnson

He said: "I propose we eliminate every remaining obstacle to the right and opportunity to vote."

Typical of the reaction among civil rights law and elimination was the statement of Roy Wilkins of the NAACP: "President Johnson's inspiring State of the Union message unveiling additional facets of the Great Society vindicates the hopes and confidence of the millions of our fellow Americans who voted for him. The President's program promises a better, freer and fairer life for every American."

Johnson's message, which the country should be and can be and whenever, according to Dr. Gladwin, the bona fides of signatures beyond the legal requirement were obtained. In order to file for the St. Louis Board of Education, candidates must secure signatures on nominating petitions amounting to two per cent of the total vote in the City of St. Louis in the most recent gubernatorial election.

The committee also announced the election of Alfred J. Ford, 4134 So. Francisco ave., as treasurer, replacing Irving A. Williams, who resigned in order to seek political office.

HEARINGS

The commission's purpose in holding this hearing is to obtain a balanced picture of the status of civil rights in Mississippi. The Commission is not a prosecuting agency. It cannot and does not intend to find facts and to report seek to punish anyone. Our job is to the President and Congress, with recommendations, for any corrective action which seems necessary.

"To this end, the Commission intends to call a broad range of witnesses, including those who will be. It is a goal for Congress and the American people. It remains for the people to give the President the help of support needed to bring his Great Society into being."

Vasey Outlines Ways to Help Anti-Poverty Plan

"The War on Poverty" will be a long term venture in which the total forces of the community will be marshaled, church leaders, with cooperation, can help in the anti-poverty program.

Mr. Vasey, general manager of the St. Louis Human Development Corporation, was the speaker at the Executive Board Meeting of the Metropolitan Community Church, which is a part of the Human Development Corporation in St. Louis, anti-poverty co-ordinating agency.

"The problem is that have been accumulating for years will not be erased quickly, but with men and women of good will from the community of our society willing to give of themselves, and serve in a common purpose, real progress can be made," Vasey said.

He outlined nine ways in which church members and members of their congregations can help in the anti-poverty program.

1. By recognizing anti-poverty efforts as "good Christianity and good Judaism" and helping their fellow parishioners to form constructive attitudes toward the poor.
2. By volunteering to provide useful skills that can strengthen the lives of others.
3. By being ready to serve in leadership capacities, particularly of church people living in the areas where neighborhood programs will be conducted.
4. By volunteering to provide useful skills that can strengthen the lives of others.

Information collected at the hearing will be evaluated in the Commission's report to the President and Congress in accordance with the Commission's responsibilities.

The Commission also hopes that a hearing, conducted in this manner, will assist responsible Mississippians in finding solutions to the problems in their State.

If you looked at one of the late night programs, a few weeks ago, you saw Godfrey Cambridge give a most convincing aid to the difficulty Negroes have in getting a taxi in New York. He finally concluded that the best thing to do was to go down to 1st Avenue, near the U.N., and pretend to be a diplomat from some foreign country (no one wants to offend the diplomats) and you were sure to get service.

In light of this, (and after reading an article about Cambridge in the November ESQUIRE magazine he really is quite serious about this taxi cab matter) it was good to see a communication from the City Commission on Human Rights of New York which went out a letter to the proprietors and drivers of 100 taxi firms recommending that "it is illegal to deny the use of public transportation to members and ethnic minority groups" and warned violators of the law that they face suspension or revocation of hack licenses without which they may not work.

Behind it all, it seems that many taxi-drivers assume that any Negro hailing a cab in the business area or elsewhere about the city wanted to be taken to Harlem, which of course is absurd. The police department has advised the Commission that the Hack Bureau will take "prompt action" against drivers who refuse to accept fares because of their minority status.

HERE AND THERE

There are echoes from the holidays still reverberating and here's a happy note. There was much happiness and joy at the home of Mrs. Greene's house on Lexington when all three of their children and their families were home opening gifts together on Christmas morning—the first time all had been together for three years. From Williams Air Force Base, near Phoenix, Arizona, came Linda and Opharita (Johnson) and their three children, Dora, Michael and Mark Dennis. Mary Carolyn and Theo Smith from Cleveland are present as were Phyllis Jane and Moses Rabb from Columbia, South Carolina, sharing the joys of the season was Opharita's mother, Virginia Johnson Lee.

Saint Louisans will be interested in the program to honor Jesse Garber on Saturday, January 30 at 7:30 p.m. The East St. Louis Alumni Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority is holding a special dedication at the St. Louis AME Church. There is so well known country-wide, as a loyal sorority member and club woman, that we can't think of anyone more deserving. Our best wishes, in advance, and we'll look forward to the 30th.

The speaker for the 5th Annual Dinner Meeting of the Metropolitan Church Federation will be Dr. Joseph A. Johnson, teacher of the New Testament at the Interdenominational Theological Center at Atlanta, Georgia. His doctorate is from Vanderbilt University with an additional doctorate in Theology from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. The dinner meeting, an event at Lane Tabernacle AME Church, will be held on Monday, January 18, at 6:30 p.m. Dr. Ames Rye, II, President of the Federation, will preside.

Greetings from Los Angeles have come by mail and phone from Lillian Carson Scott, who with her husband, "Scotty", moved to California about a month ago. She is enjoying the land of the sunshine and flowers and sends warm hellos to her many friends here. In town for the weekend and bringing all the goodies from beneath the Christmas tree to Gary Noyes, brother and sister of Irma Bradford, namely, Mrs. Gentry and Elaine Gentry. They had to return on early Sunday so that Elaine, who is an enterprising business woman (she owns a nursery school) could get back to that and her regular teaching duties.

Do you want to be abreast of the times? The Wheatley YWCA proposes to help you so when you attend the Bi-Annual Dinner Meeting on Friday, January 29 at 6:30 p.m. The special speaker will be Dr. Samuel Johnson, now affiliated with the National Council of Churches at Christ, and formerly President of A&T College at Greensboro, North Carolina and past Peace Corps officer under Sargent Shriver. Dr. Proctor's experiences give him a wide base from which to speak. To be sure you don't miss it, call in your reservation at 86-5400 on Friday, January 22nd.

Some of the St. Louis contingent that will be on hand to see President Johnson inaugurated will include the Elmer Moore, Sr., Senator Tom McLean, the Fred Weathers, Tom Russan, Frankie Preston, and Cady Trust.

NO STRINGS PULLS SOME STRINGS

We were quite interested in a letter received today from the Committee of Five, an out-of-the-spot group of alerting young women. Miss Marilyn King and Mrs. Lynn Beckwith. Jr. They have written letters to a number of newspapers and magazines, such as EBONY, LIFE, and to organizations such as the NAACP, CORE, the Urban League and the NAACP. They letter reads in part: "It has come to our attention that the play 'No Strings' is being made into a movie. As you know, this play was a success on Broadway and won for Miss Diahann Carroll, the female star, the award as Actress of the Year in 1954. We have recently learned that the starring role in the movie will be adapted for, and portrayed by a Caucasian. The Committee of Five feels (as should anyone who saw the play) that this is an affront to the well known Negro in America. The Committee of Five is urging all in the news-and-entertainment circles to spread the word and encourage readers and members to boycott the movie. We would be interested, also, in knowing the studio that is planning to produce the movie as they too, should know the feeling of the public. Despite the play's racial involvement, the day when such matters are by-passed should be gone from the American scene."

Dimes Campaign Gets Underway

The St. Louis-St. Louis County 1965 March of Dimes gets underway this week to finance the local and national fight against birth defects which have been described as the "nation's greatest childhood health problem." The campaign continues through January.

Bernard F. Dickmann, former mayor and postmaster who is serving his 17th year as general chairman, stated that more than 20,000 volunteer workers, including businessmen, mothers and teenagers, will carry out the fund-raising effort which concludes Jan. 31 and Feb. 1, with the "Mothers' March Against Crippling Diseases."

The March of Dimes, which supported the research program that produced the Salk and Sabin polio vaccines that have virtually eliminated polio in this country, finances 31 birth defect exemplary treatment centers at major medical institutions throughout the United States and a massive nation-wide research program which includes the brilliantly staffed Oak Institute for Biological Studies.

Between 2200 and 2500 children are born in St. Louis and St. Louis County each year, suffering from a significant birth defect. # Leaders Hail State Of Union Address

President Lyndon B. Johnson made equality of opportunity the keystone of the Great Society which he urged Congress to help build in his historic State of the Union message Monday night.

Speaking before a joint session of Congress, the President dramatically outlined the basic tasks before the nation.

1) "To keep our economy growing, 2) to open for all Americans the opportunity now enjoyed by most Americans, and 3) to improve the quality of life for all."

The President made a specific commitment to Negro Americans in pledging "enforcement of the civil rights law and elimination of barriers to the right to vote."

He said: "I propose we eliminate every remaining obstacle to the quality of life for all."

Typical of the reaction among civil rights leaders to the speech was the statement of Roy Wilkins of the NAACP. Mr. Wilkins said: "President Johnson's inspiring State of the Union message unveiling additional facets of the Great Society vindicates the hopes and confidence of the millions of his fellow Americans who voted for him. The President's program promises a better, freer and richer life for every American. It provides a preview of what this country should be. It sets a goal for Congress and the American people. It remains for the people to give the President the kind of support needed to bring his Great Society into being."

Excerpts from the President's message follow:

"First, we must keep our nation prosperous. We seek full employment opportunity for every American. I will present a budget designed to move the economy forward."

"We must also make important changes in our housing program if we are to pursue these same basic goals. A Department of Housing and Urban Development will be needed to spearhead this effort in our cities."

Every child must have the best education our nation can provide. "In Africa and Asia we are witnessing the turbulent unfolding of new nations and continents. We welcome them to the society of nations."

"We are committed to help those seeking to strengthen their own independence, and to work most closely with those governments dedicated to the welfare of all their people."

"We seek not fidelity to an iron faith, but a diversity of belief as varied as man himself. We seek not to extend the power of America but the progress of humanity. We seek not to dominate others but to strengthen the freedom of all."

"I will seek new ways to use our knowledge to help deal with the explosion in world population and the growing scarcity in world resources."

"For a second century we labor to establish a unity of purpose and interest among the many groups which make up the American community."

"That struggle has often brought pain and violence. It is not yet over. But we have achieved a unity of interest among our people unmatched in the history of freedom."

THE NEGRO PRESS CREED

The Negro Press believes that America can best best the world by showing that it can achieve equality for all its citizens. It is the Negro Press's duty to report on the progress of this struggle, to expose the forces of resistance, and to help the Negro people to help each other in the fight to achieve equality for all.

-EDITORIALS-

That Morning Paper

The city's morning newspaper took occasion, this week, to editorially speak to 22 courageous Negro football players, in New Orleans who, fairly refused to stand still and accept the stigma of a city alleged to be their "host" for the American Football League's All-Star game.

The blatant injustice in the editorial must be answered here.

Certainly the refusal of the professional football players to subject themselves to repeated indignities was in keeping with the new mood of the enlightened Negro, and an equally enlightened attitude of this country's Federal authority.

It serves as if some people feel progress is delightful, a wonderful state of affairs, so long as the Negro doesn't ripple the waters, so to speak. In truth, any real progress for a group denied equality for more than a century would be a necessary not only ripple the waters, but also rock the boat.

But let's get to certain statements contained in the editorial. The morning paper profiles about an "agreement" existing in New Orleans which has Negro taxi drivers transporting only Negroes and white drivers... it says that you know the rest of this story. It is then stated that the Negro cab drivers in New Orleans "talked" for such an arrangement. But a taxi is a public utility and pray tell how taxi drivers are supposed to know of all such arrangements?

But again, we know all about that too. Right here in St. Louis, several years ago, they had such an arrangement. Fortunately, this was finally eliminated and Negro cab drivers in this city are making more money than ever.

The morning paper asks why Negro athletes should be touring "hot spots and home joints" in the New Orleans French Quarter, while in training for an important game. It then attempts to paint the Negro players on the Syracuse University football team as being good little boys for failing to raise a stink about the bias in New Orleans/Syracuse having played in the Sugar Bowl just two weeks ago. Yet, clearly, the evidence to prove that the Negroes on the Syracuse team were that meek and docile. On the contrary, the Syracuse team refused to even train for the All-Star game in Mississippi, but trained instead in Florida.

We will not ignore the editorial emphasis on the alleged misdeeds of the Negro athletes in seeking to see the sights of New Orleans, but it really shouldn't be necessary to point out to any newspaper in a major city, especially in sports-minded St. Louis, that professional athletes are among the world's most ardent tourists.

Primarily because of their traveling from city to city, and the resultant time on their hands until "game" time, it's only natural that they would want to explore new and different territory. In fact, we can't conceive of anyone going to New Orleans and not wanting to visit the much-fabled French Quarter. Nor does this mean it's absolutely necessary to partake of the "boozie" and "flesh-pots."

As if to completely detract from the material unity and strength exhibited by the revolt of what is chidingly called the "handful of Negro players" the morning newspaper studiously attempts to fertilize innuendoes that the AFL Commissioner, Joe Foss, had other reasons for so quickly agreeing to the Negro player's justifiable complaints.

Tsk, Tsk!

Wonder why this self-righteous newspaper didn't run the full gamut—and hopefully demand that the 22 "brave" Negroes be immediately co-opted out of professional football? On second thought, why not insist that they be perpetually banned from ALL professional sports?

If we're going to be public, now, let's go whole hog.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY:

Dr. King Throws Down The Gauntlet

Reprinted from the CLEVELAND CALL-POST

Fresh from his triumphant European visit, during which he received the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize, Dr. Martin Luther King has served notice that he will open the New Year in racially-troubled Selma, Alabama by launching a new Voter Registration Drive throughout the stubborn State of Alabama.

Dr. King's Alabama effort is calculated to provide the first of several significant tests to be made upon Dixie's die-hard white supremacists since the United States Supreme Court gave its blessing to the "core" of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, including the "public accommodations" section.

Selma, like some other southern cities, has secured a state court injunction against the exercise of the type contemplated by Dr. King and his supporters. But Selma's Public Safety Director has indicated that the arrest of Dr. King under this device is unlikely, since the High Court ruling renders such statutes invalid.

In Alabama, a half-century of resistance against the Negro civil rights struggle against prospective Negro voters and Dr. King and his followers will place a great deal of reliance upon the efficacy of these injunctions to stimulate an assumption of responsibility on the part of public officials at Selma.

But the assumption of "equal protection under the law" at Selma or in any other segregationist stronghold is a calculated risk for any and all who challenge the white terrorists in Dixie, who in many instances, such as at St. Augustine, Fla., have seized control from the moderates in the civic, governmental and business community.

Dr. King's approach is based on non-violence. His adversaries will be bound by any such mobility, and it remains to be seen whether or not the High Court's most recent rulings have served to squelch it, or intensify its determination to stop any further campaigns of terror against civil rights "transgressors."

Much will depend upon the resolution shown by so-called "peaceful white citizens," who through segregationists at heart, are only waiting for their several communities in abjecting their power to snail and hoodlums who are more dangerous to their "way of life" than can be posed by Negro aspirations to the franchise.

St. Augustine business leaders, who thought the Negro agitators could be crushed by bombs, bullets and bullies, are now weeping over the loss of millions in tourist business and many face bankruptcy. The nation will be watching Selma with bated breath.

To The Editor:

I have the privilege of serving as a director of the Adult Education Council of Greater Saint Louis. As with any public agency in this community, in order to expand the services we make available to our citizens, it is necessary to keep our agency active and growing.

During the past year, we have expanded and improved existing services and begun work on a number of promising new programs—a teacher referral service, and source referrals, adult education and counseling for the unemployed, quarterly membership meetings, an awards program, special programs, and a "counseling center" with other organizations, an ongoing public relations program featuring member agencies and a major effort to alert adults in the St. Louis area to the advantages of "Federal" funds available to Missouri.

The President's "Greatest Burden"

WASHINGTON—President Johnson's State of the Union message was really many messages to the world and the nation. They undoubtedly will be examined carefully by the foreign offices in London, Peking, Moscow, Paris and Bonn. But one part of the message also needs more study at home. It was not hastily written, it should not be hastily read.

On domestic issues Mr. Johnson has demonstrated once again that he is a pragmatic progressive. He is not much for big talk; but when it comes to action and results, he has not had a comparable President in decades. The programs that others have hoped for and pleaded for, he sets into motion as if nothing were easier.

Medicare, a Department of Urban Affairs, a massive education program all are about to lead into the Johnson era as if their future was never uncertain. He has even managed to restore the reputation of Congress. If the mark of the Kennedy era was the mark of Mr. Johnson's is to do so.

Yet, that special part of the message which caught my attention I should like to explore further. It was his short denunciation of the President's "greatest burden."

"A President's hardest task is not to DO what is right, but to know what is right," he said. He went on to say that he found his own answer in the history of that once barren land along the Potomac from which he came. "A President does not shape a new and personal vision of America," he continued. "He scatters the seeds of the American past."

Mr. Johnson has always presented a rugged image, yet these few lines reveal a side that does not often appear in public.

The President did not specify any particular issues that troubled him. One might guess that he had in mind South Vietnam. It is a situation that is very complex, yet on which many well-intentioned people offer simplified solutions. Who is sure what is the "right thing" to do?

On the one hand, the President is bothered by his old friend, columnist Joseph Alsop, who warns that he is on the verge of a defeat matched only by the Communist take-over of China. Mr. Alsop complains, among military action, northwards. In arguing his case, Mr. Alsop has the unfortunate habit of implying that anyone who does not agree with him is bordering on insanity. If they have not actually crossed the border. Despite this his argument is not without merit.

On the other side, Sen. Wayne Morse announces in strident tones that he is about to make a cross-country tour to whip up sentiment for getting us out of South Vietnam. On the basis of what he has said that it is difficult to see how Sen. Morse will be helping the President.

Against the conflicting advice the President must decide what is the "right thing" to do.

What does he face in making such a decision?

To begin, there is the presence of Red China, with its 700 million people frustrated at home by the continuing failures of the Communist system she proposes to export the system abroad. The nations of Asia which are just beginning to emerge from centuries of tyranny, poverty and denial of civil rights face it. Against this there are the fruits of the old imperialism (especially French) with its debilitating and corrupting effect on the political leaders of Southeast Asia. This is part of what makes it so hard to get across a message of democracy.

In Southeast Asia a spot? Yes, of course. But must the President make a decision immediately on what course to pursue? I think not. Perhaps there should be talks with our Pacific allies, Australia and New Zealand, and also with the Soviet Union.

It is noteworthy that the Russians do not seem to be in any hurry to resolve affairs there. Perhaps they understand the alternatives to our withdrawal better, than do those innocents who talk of neutralization.

Yes, We All Talk

We use the term "talk" rather than "talk" to include people who have no hearing, as well as those who have some residual hearing. Clearly do we find a person so deaf that he can't hear anything or any sounds.

A great many parents are at a loss as to what to do to start the language development of their deaf children. If, as they should be glad to learn that, a free conference of parents of deaf children is available from the John Tracy Clinic, 806 West Adams Boulevard, Los Angeles, California. Parents desiring to take this course should write: Director, Correspondence Course No. 22507, Department of the John Tracy Clinic.

There is an interesting story behind this Clinic which is named after the son (John) of actor Spencer Tracy. John was born deaf, but through hearing rehabilitation, provided by this clinic, was able to become a hearing by his reading, etc.

The work of the John Tracy Hearing Clinic has been spearheaded by his mother, Mrs. Tracy. READERS: For any free public relations pamphlet, send two stamps and self-addressed long business envelope to Dr. M. H. Bond, 2000 West 20th, Florida A & M University, Tallahassee, Florida 32307.

From the Desk of Sen. Edw. V. Long

The new 80th Congress came into session on Capitol Hill, and received a long series of legislative business from President Johnson.

In his state of the Union message, the President called for Congressional action on a number of fronts. These include legislation for the elderly, stepped-up efforts against poverty in America and Federal aid to education.

On the farm front, President Johnson has proposed the first farm agricultural program that would serve the small farmer who needs assistance the most. Also high on the agenda of national needs called for by the Administration were conservation efforts to protect the beauty and productivity of our nation's resources of land and water.

With the opening of the new Congress the same introduction of many bills in the Senate. However, which I have just in putting before the Senate, I have a number of bills to introduce.

Household Care for the elderly under Social Security was again introduced by Senator Anderson, myself, and other Senators. Given top Administration priority, as reflected by its number of 11.3 billion this bill is an excellent example of the Administration's high priority of meeting the needs of the elderly.

A National Economic Service and New Enterprise Commission would be established by a bill which would provide a new way to help the Nation and economic problems resulting from changing defense needs and changing defense of the Nation.

Attention is also being given to the Water Pollution Control Act, which I passed in introducing. The bill, which I passed in introducing, would help the Nation's water resources by providing for the construction of new water treatment plants and the improvement of existing ones.

A Resolution on Presidential Succession, put before the Senate by Senator Byrd, myself, and other Senators, provides for filling the office of Vice President if the need should arise, and sets up a means of determining Presidential disability.

An Amendment to the Water Research Act would increase the authorization of Federal funds for water research at institutions across the country.

The Relief for Higher Education is similar to a bill of my own that I introduced in the 80th Congress. This measure, which I am co-sponsoring with Senator Byrd, amends the Internal Revenue Code to give tax credits for parents who have children in college.

The Cold War G.I. Bill would make available education and other benefits to veterans of the armed forces who entered the services after January 1, 1945.

Reference is made to an educational research program. The 1963 Presidential Message: Committee of the recently designated activities is now available.

This official report program of events, including news photographs and articles by nationally-known writers, may be obtained at a cost of $1.00 from the National Commission, 1375 Washington Blvd., New York, New York 10019.

C.M.E. Church Holds Gigantic Meeting At Columbia, S.C.

BY C. E. CHAPMAN
COLUMBIA, S. C. — Sidney Park C. M. E. Church, 1117 Bland Street, was the host to eight bishops, all of the General Conference, who met here for the first time in the history of the church during the three sessions of the Mid-Winter session of the College of Bishops of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church, which began Monday and continued through Wednesday, January 14-16. The CME churchwide group was welcomed at the Wade-Hampton hotel Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the city of Columbia when Dr. John H. Statterwhite, American University, Washington, D. C. was toastmaster. Several musical selections were rendered by the Sidney Park Quartette. Rev. C. N. Reed, Philadelphia, presented the Master of Ceremonies.

Guests were presented by the following: Rev. John T. Kellman for the ministers; Rev. E. D. McWoodson for the presiding elders; and Mrs. Beulah Baxley for the Methodist Church. W. E. Solomon, General Secretary of Lay Activities, introduced Mayor Lester L. Bates, who spoke words of welcome for the City of Columbia.

Mayor Bates paid high tribute to the membership of the CME church and was given great appreciation at the conclusion of his address.

Dear friends,

What conveniences modern improvements have brought us! With our public address system, the family can hear every word of the funeral service and still have absolute privacy. It is even possible, in cooperation with the telephone, to carry the services to someone who find it impossible to attend the funeral.

Just another modern feature which we know is greatly appreciated by our patrons.

Respectfully,

Since March 1949, upon graduation of the Poro Beauty College here, Mrs. Annie Elizabeth Austin, has made rapid progress in the beauty industry. The millionaire-philanthropist, started here in 1900 and moved its headquarters to Chicago 1913. . . . Mrs. Annie Keston, became the first owner and director of the branch school, 1914-1960. . . . There is a bright future ahead for the new school owner (Mrs. Austin) who opened in 1963. Mrs. Davis continued.

Born in Memphis, Tennessee, and arriving here June, 1907 to enter nurse training, was highly stressed during the conference with the writer last month. She made it clear, that it was her childhood dream, to learn the beauty profession and open a school. During her earlier struggle, she has worked in several private industries and conducted many business enterprises, including the TRIPLE AAA RESTAURANT AND CONFECTIONERY, in the Mill Creek area, 1940-43. # Master Pianist Here With St. Louis Symphony

Artur Schnabel, the world's most honored living pianist, will appear as guest soloist with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra in a special concert for its pension fund on Tuesday, February 16. The famous pianist, one of St. Louis' all-time favorites, will be making his first appearance here in several seasons. Eleazar de Carvalho will conduct the concert at Kiel Auditorium Opera House at 8:30 p.m.

Schnabel will be heard in two major piano selections with the orchestra. It will truly be an all-Rubinstein night.

Rubinstein's appearance here is one of the major musical events arranged as part of the St. Louis Bicentennial celebration. St. Louis is one of few American cities in which the great pianist will appear this season. Rubinstein, who in 1896 will observe the 80th anniversary of his first American appearance, rarely accepts orchestra dates and no longer books appearances on subscription concert pairs. He always attracts sell-out audiences.

Born in Poland in 1886, Rubinstein was a child prodigy, studied beauty for which she has always been envied around the world.

An elongated body look will be one of the new styles in fashion for 1965. Women will be wearing long jackets, generally with new proportions of net, velvet, sleeves, lined, will add the body and belts will encircle the hips or control back fullness.

Skirts will be prettier, and softer in the new season. Side-wrapped skirts with pockets that will fall slimly, draped skirts with fullness that whirls from the hip lines and duffle skirts with gathered hip yokes will be very popular.

This is the year you will see many, many costumes. The dress and jacket, the dress and coat, all in prints, plain wool, and in unexpected combinations. When I say unexpected that is just what I mean. Keep your eyes open and see.

It's the buyer's choice on the skirt length. You can wear a length to your liking. Your dress may be short by day and demure by night. Necklines are still high. The sexy and most exciting will be the scarf necklines. Sleeves are on the rise. The incoming trend in the batwing sleeve. The latest sleeves will have a softening silhouette look. Ruffles will be new for late day and even later. You will be able to purchase skirts with asymmetric ruffling down the side. In evening gowns, ruffles go from bodice to hem. The bustle ruffles for night drama will animate the new late day shapings.

The fabrics will be of bold texture, lustrous, lots of geometric prints, floral prints, borderprints, paisley prints and all kinds of wild checks will catch your eyes in '65.

Colors go the "Great Night Ways" from stark white to bone, to creamy. Lots of bright pastels, bold black and white in prints will be on the scene. You will see a bouquet of marigold colors such as pale pinks to flaming yellow and oranges. The blue family is still very popular in pale and bitter-sweet, cool aqua and bright navy. Green will also gleam all of the way.

It is what's on top that counts. I know you have been anxious to hear about the latest trend tips on hats. Well, ladies, get your handbags out because they are back! The scarf hats, helmet, canoe-shaped hats and beehives, all with lifting brims, are here.

And from our old fashioned friends come evening creations to delight the sight of any woman. There will be more about Press Week in a later addition of your paper, so be sure to read Fashionwise and Otherwise next week. Please believe me, it's a new administration taking over in the Fashion World.

Volunteer Film Association Starts Membership Drive

The Volunteer Film Association, a 25-year-old organization serving shut-ins in the St. Louis area, began the first phase of its annual membership and fund drive this week to raise a goal of $20,000 needed to continue its operations for another year.

In a letter to some 1200 contributing members, President Edwin G. Hudspeth told of placing more emphasis on "Talking Tapes," one of several new programs we began a couple of years ago.

"Talking Tapes are tape recorded books, novels, articles and other material supplied to the blind and temporarily or partially blind and multiple-handicapped people of all ages. When available, the VFA provides a tape playback machine.

"We need a great deal more equipment to just serve the shut-ins from whom we already have requests. We need literally hundreds of tape playback machines, and of course money to operate small office and staff necessary to ordinate the requests for tapes with the present library and the recording of additional tapes.

Contributions this year to VFA Hudspeth said, "will support this re-emphasized service. Just as the movies served the needs best in the beginning of VFA, Talking Tapes now seems to suit the needs of more shut-ins.

"After many meetings and much discussion and deliberation, your Board of Directors came to the inescapable conclusion that our original program of movies alone had lost much of its appeal to most shut-ins — and just as importantly — the reason that the community was unwilling to support the movie program with sufficient contributions.

"Therefore, VFA has ceased the showing of movies and in turn has been able to cut back on the office staff and reduce other expenses.

"It is very encouraging to see many of the same enthusiastic VFA volunteers planning and working on the Talking Tape program. We hope to greatly expand this activity and serve more and more of the partially and temporarily blind and multiple-handicapped. Many of these are much more shut-in with a blanket of darkness—than our movie scut-line, and they need our help desperately!

Contributions may be sent to VFA, 6561 University Drive, St. Louis 30, Missouri.

Beethoven Festival Planned By Symph.

ST. LOUIS. Beethoven Festival, featuring Pianist Gina Bachauer as guest soloist, will be featured by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra at its subscription concert January 23-24.

Eleazar de Carvalho will conduct the concert at Kiel Opera House on Saturday night at 8:00 o'clock and Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m.

Miss Bachauer, one of the leading women pianists of all times, will be heard in Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 4. Also on the program will be the composer's Coriolanus Overture and Symphony No. 7.

Miss Bachauer is making her third appearance with the orchestra. She is on her fourteenth annual tour of North America.

Born in Athens in 1915, Miss Bachauer graduated from the Athens Conservatory with honors, studied in Paris with Alfred Cortot for three years and later worked under the guidance of Sergei Rachmaninoff.

At 20, she won the coveted Prix d'Honneur at Vienna in the International Musical Festival. She made her debut with the Athens Symphony Orchestra conducted by Dimitri Mitropoulos, who, by coincidence, conducted for her at her American debut, with the New York Philharmonic in 1936. Miss Bachauer was twice decorated by the late King Paul of Greece, who studied piano with her for some time.

Miss Bachauer is married to Alice Sherman, the conductor, and resides in England.

Tickets for these concerts are on sale by mail at the Aeolian Ticket Office, 1004 Olive Street, St. Louis 1, Missouri. Orders should be accompanied by remittance plus self-addressed, stamped envelope for return of tickets.

B.Q. In Bonafide Platter Picker

Radio KATZ has a bonafide star-maker of its staff!

With less than six months as station program director, Robert BQ can already boast of three hot-selling platters he personally guided to stardom.

The latest record BQ is ushering to the top in local radio circles is Blind Man, by Little Milton.

Robert B. Q.

tion. The waking is climbing fast and at last report was No. 72 in the nation's Top 100 Records.

Earlier, the KATZ program director persuaded Columbia Records to stop pushing that Matter of Time, by Aretha Franklin, and boost instead the other side of the platter: Running Out of Fools. The side has become one of Aretha's biggest hits.

Another record hit with BQ's personal stamp boosting it up the end was: Twice Thru by Albert Cash. Cash, a local lad now living in Chicago, was under BQ's personal sponsorship for several years. The record reached the select Top 30 hit times in the nation.

BQ shrugs off any personal credit when asked about the success of the hits. In addition to being KATZ's program director, the popular radio personality is also on the air, each day, from 9:30 to 12:30. Despite his 17-year span in area radio, BQ is like the proverbial "bus man" when it comes to selecting a hobby. He's the operator of a ham radio set in his spare time—call letters WB-HCD!

Crying Youth Alerts Police To Strongarm

A patrolman who observed a 15-year-old youth in the alley, crying, learned the youth had just been robbed of $20. A search of the area turned up a suspect.

Patrolman William Weather, Jr. District 1, chanced across James Green, 1618a Franklin, in an alley in the rear of the 1700 block of Franklin, shortly before 9 o'clock in the morning.

When the police officer inquired, young Green informed him of the robbery. Patrolman Weather put the youth in his patrol car, and cruised the area. In front of 1716 Franklin, the youth pointed out two suspects.

One of the men ran as the police officer approached. Patrolman Weather collared the suspect, identified as Clarence Jones Jr., 22, 4084 Page.

The policeman said Jones resisted arrest, but was finally subdued. Patrolman Weather, however, suffered a sprained right arm.

Here's a great idea for a party—with built-in entertainment! Send notice to your friends that you are starting a talent search and they have been selected to participate in the contest plans to be staged at your home. Every couple (or individual) who comes prepared to entertain the group with a song, interpretative dance, poetry recital, long performance, pantomime, dramatic reading or improvisation. Use of costumes and props is encouraged. All you need to do is provide a stage area—complete with a broomstick microphone—in a corner of the living room or living room. As the talented guests arrive, make a list of the "acts" so you can ensure the production with appropriate, humorous introductions. Select the winners by popular applause and with great fanfare, present them with a large blue ribbon badge and a copy of our list of names. The list of names is a great prize to watch the Saturday night late TV show in the world's own living room! While everyone is enjoying the show, keep the audience supplied with coffee, punch, or juice, pretzels and tall, tantalizing glasses of champagne. Punch. Apple Juice (about 1 quart) Orange slices, cut in wedges 3 bottles (1 pint each) cranberry juice cocktail 2 bottles (7 oz. each) 7-Up, chilled. Pour orange juice into ice cube tray. Put orange wedges in each section. Freeze. To serve, fill each tall (8 oz.) glass about half full with cranberry juice cocktail. Add punch and orange slices. Fill with sparkling 7-Up. Makes about 15 (8 oz.) servings.

Buddy Lonesome's "HELL-BOX"

Captain Brooks!

In last week's column, interesting comment from y'all about the shift of Captain Thomas Brooks as the commander of the 5th district to a hidden out-post at police headquarters. . . most of you got the right idea, but some seemed to think my personal life was as hard as Tom's neck. Not so, for there's no doubt that Tom Brooks is one of the nicest guys in the local police department. Then Joe, there was a 'H' crack in that Siberian out-post over the weekend. Chief Brostrugan now shifted Captain Brooks to head the police department's accident review board. In this role, all methods and procedures relative to accidents occurring in the department, must be reviewed by Captain Brooks hereon out.

That's a little improvement, but still not hardly enough. If you want to assess the promotions, remember that Captain Atkins Warren replaced Captain Brooks—and Captain Edward Bolden was transferred to head the police Records Department. BUT—with Captain Brooks' transfer from the command slot at the 5th district, to an inside spot, that still leaves just one Negro officer in a command position in the field. For before he was promoted, Captain Warren was one of the command officers at the Deer-Peas district. With his transfer, there is not now ANY Negro commissioned officer in Deer-Peas. That certainly could stand some improvement. Let's get the command position in the largest police district we have—the 1st of that all-white brass.

Incidentally, back to Captain Brooks, the merchants and businessmen of the 5th (Peters) district have been sending him lavish letters of praise on his stint as district commander. One particularly warm letter was from the Rev. Richard J. Mann, pastor of St. John's Church of Christ, located at Grand and Kosuth. Made you get a warm glow . . . just to read it!

Crime Increase

With the continued increase in crime, many local residents are cracking about the possibility of starting little vigilante groups in each neighborhood . . . And it ain't all just in their pal. It's getting so the daylight burglaries in the city are jumping at an alarming rate. One veteran police officer tells of the insistence on civil rights, employed by many a cagey thief. Also a deterrent is the repeated rejoinder by teen-age thugs, "you can't do anything to me, because I'm a juvenile." How about that? This coming probably, from a sixteen-year-old, weighing 200 pounds . . . but just 16 years of age.

It's getting so bad that some top police officials should order a return to the flying squad days of police work here in the city. If we had in each district, a squad of seasoned detectives who would pick up the suspicious looking thugs, and hold them for investigation . . . that should slow down the crime rate. I don't mean every Tom, Dick and Harry who has just not had his tie straight enough for a passing cop; but those little hands of thugs, that we all see on the street. No matter that they haven't done anything (yet), but if the cop would just have authority enough to act in such situations, the immediate improvement would be tremendous.

ARGUS NEWSBOYS MAKE RAPID PROGRESS—Within the last five weeks, the Falker brothers, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene L. Falker, 3018 Hartner have increased their sales route from 20 to 170 papers weekly. The novice trio of salesmen, members of the Union Memorial Methodist church, give credit to that institution and their many friends for their splendid patronage. Increasing their sales route to more than 300 weekly is their goal. They're soliciting new and old customers. Please call the Falker brothers for your next Argus—P.O. 1-6023. Thanks to the Rev. John N. Doggett, Jr. and others for their kind assistance, say Frederick, Keith and Wesley Falker, shown above.

Urges President to Send Negro Clergymen Abroad

A South Bend, Indiana minister, one of thirty persons who accompanied the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King to Oslo, Norway for the awarding of the Nobel Peace Prize, has called up President Johnson to arrange for a special State Department program which would send Negro clergymen abroad on a unique assignment. The Rev. Charles E. Gordon, in a letter to the President wrote, "Our American image abroad seems to have suffered tremendously because of a distorted view of our nation's race problem. Propagandists have exploited prime examples of racial injustice, cruelty and violence. Many of the Europeans in the nine nations I visited, feel that the worst of Birmingham, Alabama and numerous Mississippi cities and towns is fully representative of the best that our

SUMMIT MEETING—Members of the Executive Committee of Frontiers International, exploring broader areas to achieve ADVANCEMENT THROUGH SERVICE, prime objective of the 29-year-old organization, take a "breather" from the recent two-day brainstorm session at Philadelphia's Sheraton Motor Inn. Left to right: J. Philip Waring, St. Louis, Secretary; Harold L. Pilgrim, Philadelphia, Executive Secretary; James F. King, Newark, N. J., Past President; William Harrison, rear, Dayton, Ohio, Treasurer; Dr. Herbert B. Crouch, Nashville, Tenn., 1st Vice President; and Clarence A. Dockens, Philadelphia, 3rd Vice President. The group also discussed plans for the 1965 convention, to be held in New York City, July 26-30.

fered tremendously because of a distorted view of our nation's race problem. Propagandists have exploited prime examples of racial injustice, cruelty and violence. Many of the Europeans in the nine nations I visited, feel that the worst of Birmingham, Alabama and numerous Mississippi cities and towns is fully representative of the best that our nation provides the American Negro. Since propagandists have displayed to the world our worst side in the area of race relations, I am of the opinion that our nation has a moral responsibility to display the other side of this picture."

Gladys in Washington that week, in order that he might further define his proposals. Mr. Gordon also plans to seek the counsel of three of his friends on Capitol Hill . . . Congressman John Brademas (Dem., Ind.) and Indiana's U. S. Senator's Birch, Bayh and Vance Hartke.

GIFTED CLERGY

The 33-year-old clergyman is pastor of South Bend's First AME Zion Church, built by his father, the late Bishop Ruford F. Gordon. He urged our Chief Executive to direct the State Department to inaugurate a program in gifted, prominent Negro clergymen of leading denominations would be sent throughout various parts of the world, to preach, lecture and meet groups on all levels. Answering the numerous questions which will be posed. Mr. Gordon suggested that each minister spend a month on assignment with a week in four different cities or nations.

Continuing, Gordon wrote, "Judging from the comments of several Europeans who engaged me in conversation on this subject, there would be little, if any difficulty in finding colleagues who would open both their pulpits and homes to their Negro brothers from the United States."

The Rev. Mr. Gordon further told the President, "I find that there is abroad, a hunger for knowledge and the sharing of experiences by clergymen of color, who have been active, not only in pulpits and parishes, but have also been identified with the civil rights movement and the struggle of the Negro to attain the class citizenship."

The young Negro leader who is president of the South Bend NAACP and a member of the Mayor's Human Relations Committee also asked President Johnson to include in this proposed program, talented Negro soloists and small vocal ensembles and groups. Accompanying the clergymen, these musicians would offer Negro spirituals with the Negro's uplift struggle," Mr. Gordon said. "This combination would accomplish far more than ends of the college professor and special representatives who are sent abroad by our State Department and are, at times, met with resentment, hostility or misunderstanding."

EUROPEAN DESIRE

The Rev. Mr. Gordon said he has also noted the desire of Europeans to see and hear many of the white clergymen who have been identified with the civil rights movement, even to the extent of going to jail. However, he indicated that he felt that organizations like the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA, and the National Conference of Christians and Jews could best spearhead a program which would send these men into other countries for key speaking engagements.

The Zion Methodist minister, who is an invited guest to the inauguration of President Johnson and Vice President-elect Humphrey on January 20th, has asked for an audience with appropriate key government
